Mrs. Berry/Mrs. Sanocki

November 15, 2011

Mrs. Sanocki taught full time this week. What fun!

Reading/Language Arts:

Letter li as beginning and middle sound

Printing letter li

The sight word "said"

Little book Sid Said

Students made their own little book with the sight word "said"

Math:

Students worked on creating groups of 6-10 objects

Students wrote the numerals 6-10

Religion:

We have been working on practicing the new translations of prayers for Mass and learning about Israel. Mrs. Reiner will tell us about her experience in Israel.

Science:

We worked with predicting and recording whether things sink or float.

Students did a variety of activities with pumpkins, including estimating/counting seeds, estimating weight, etc.

Other:

Mrs. Sanocki wants to make a soup with the students for Thanksgiving. Please purchase and send your item by Monday. Thank you.

I am testing students on any missing Phonemic awareness skills up to this point, sight words and counting and number recognition.

Homework for next week is letter li; pages 22-23 in homework book.

Have a great weekend!
